Dedication

WILLIAM A. MILLER

This book is gratefully and affectionately dedicated to Mr. William A. Miller, French and Civics teacher, whose breadth of vision, enthusiastic support, sympathetic understanding of the problems of young people, adherence to lofty ideals and principles, and sense of justice always tempered with mercy, have served as an example and an inspiration to the youth of our school and our community.

The Principal's Message

MY young friends, it is an extremely satisfying experience for me to extend you greetings on your graduation day. The progress you have made justly entitles you to considerable praise. Great sacrifice and effort are represented by this accomplishment.

You now become identified with a host of people who have finished your Alma Mater. This group includes ministers, doctors, lawyers, insurance brokers, contractors, dentists, career soldiers, and others who have distinguished themselves in various fields of human endeavor.

The social order into which you are to soon assume adult responsibility is fraught with many imperfections. The apparent moral and spiritual bankruptcy into which so many have fallen continues to impose grave responsibilities upon those who would respect the dignity of man. It is fairly generally agreed that present advancements in the field of thermo-nuclear energy are such as to guarantee the possible destruction of civilization. Mechanical inventions have made possible a standard of living unthought of a generation ago; yet the techniques demanded by the principles of peace continue to elude us. This is the social order you face—this is your world. It is yours to contribute such as you can to improve the lot of man. Who knows but that one day you may not derive the formula that may usher us into a new era of peace.

We have endeavored to create within you tendencies toward positive actions calculated for your personal and social advancement and to establish such inhibitions as will safeguard you against evil doings. Our aim has been to assist you in understanding and the values inherent in, and the responsibilities demanded by good citizenship.

It is our earnest prayer that you will look with charity upon our errors and remember with kindness those whom you leave behind, those who have gone, and will continue to go beyond their contractual obligations to safeguard you from falling.

We Grave and Reverent Seniors

We grave and reverent seniors,
Who thought the years go slow;
We spent in acquisition
Of things we had to know.

Are filled with wild excitement,
At last the goal is won;
We gaze in admiration,
Upon the work we've done.

The courses we have taken,
The stiff exams we've passed,
Would indicate intelligence,
With wonder we're aghast.

The faculty, they tell us,
Is equally surprised,
For when they found us passing
They scarcely believed their eyes.

Perhaps it was their wisdom,
That dragged us up to grade,
And so we're saying "Thank You,"
For good advice and aid.

How often we have counted,
The time until holidays,
And wished the hours were shorter,
In education's ways.

But now we may discover
What old folks say is true:
Life's working day is lengthy
And holidays are few.

Still armed with high endeavor,
We meet fate with a smile,
And strive with hearts undaunted,
Remembering the while,

That life, despite misfortune,
Is but adventure gay,
And Death's a friend that gives us
A last long holiday.

Realizing that working in real situations contributes to the growth and development of an individual, Huntington gladly cooperates with Virginia State College and directs students in the cadet teaching program. This year we had four young college students who added much to our school life.

HISTORY

Class History

"GREAT day in the morning!" said the members of the Huntington High School student body, "What in the world is this invading us?" Well, they were talking about our "little" class that came to the great Huntington High School in September of 1949.

How clearly I remember the beautiful address that was given by our principal. One part—the part about being "ladies and gentlemen"—has always remained utmost in my mind; how many times have we heard it since? Often, but not too often.

Who were our homeroom teachers, you ask? There was Miss Peace, Mr. McGee, Mrs. Cobb, Mr. Stark, Miss Duncan, and Miss Thomas. Settled at least we seemed to be a part of the "great" Huntington family. The school year passed rapidly; our love for our school grew, but so did our responsibilities.

Glorious September! we were at last freshmen. We now took our responsibilities with more consideration. This year found us branching out into the various organizations of the school. In the choir the melodious voices of Edna Lawrence, Ira Holloway, Joseph Copeland, Zella Williams, Lonniell White, James Cosby, and Cozelle Upshur were evident. The band got an additional boost from Edna Reid, John Hardwick, James Poe, Rudolph Palmer, Lois Haskett, Floyd Cofield, Franklin Dillard, John Christian, and Kathryn Vaughan. Complacent and satisfied we came to the conclusion of a very successful year.

It is now our sophomore year and we feel as if we rule supreme. We organized the class as follows: Quinn Shelton, president; James George, vice-president; Dilsie Graham, secretary; Mae E. Smith, assistant secretary; James Cosby, treasurer.

We found many of our students going into the various organizations of the school. Edna Reid was elected as secretary of the Student Council. Participating in the choir this year were Margaret L. Bowes, Mae Smith, Charles Holland, John Hardwick, Bernard Tumblin, Nannie Moore, Delores Gregg, Lula Fuller, James Gwaltney, Jack Pierce, Gloria Hargraves, Franklin Dillard, Floyd Green, Carey Wrenn, Vinetta Parker, Shirley Wilkins, Irma Owens, Patricia Pope, Mazelle Outlaw, Queenie Outlaw, James Chevious, and Dorothy Riddick. In the band we found Dilsie Graham, Sarah McPhatter, Barbara Tucker, Geneva Pulley, Olivia Garrett, Esther Furbush, William Brunson, and Evelyn Scott.

Those joining the Math Club were Aeolus Jones, Rudolph Palmer, James Poe, and Franklin Dillard.

Our sports minded boys with burning zeal captured some of the best positions in sports. Our sportsmen were James Braswell, Floyd Boyd, Charles Sanders, Stanley Jones, Leroy Jones, Jerry Small, and Oliver

Sidney, Isaiah Cotton, James Marshall, John Christian, Franklin Dillard, Stanley Green, Ernest Everett, Marshall Hunt, Johnny Knox, and James Ponton in football; William Brunson and Joseph Copeland in Track; and Bernard Tumblin and Joseph Covington in tennis; also James Poe, Jerry Small, and Nathan Stith in baseball. In the Student Council, Franklin Dillard was elected vice-president.

The time has come; hard work and busy schedules were here at last for this was our junior year. We had to get started early, so we organized our class as follows: President, James George; vice-president, Vernon Harris; secretary, Mae Ellen Smith; assistant secretary, Dilsie Graham; treasurer, William Brunson.

The wonderful work of our sportsmen was carried on by the same persons with an exception of a few additional participants.

At the prom we entertained the seniors. The music for this occasion was rendered by the Royal Hamptonians. Representing us at the Homecoming festivities were Ira Holloway and Irma Owens. Happy day! Franklin Dillard was elected president of the Student Council.

The senior year is here at last; open your doors world; we will be there soon; how happy we are. We elected the class officers as follows: President, James George; vice-president, Vernon Harris; secretary, Shirley Stubbs; treasurer, Joseph Copeland; chaplain, James Cosby.

In order to make plans for the (ensuing) year's activities we found it necessary to have a number of class meetings. The electing of our Ring Committee and our Annual Staff was the order of the day. Mae Smith and Anna Jones were our representatives in the Homecoming activities. Our sportsmen continue in their capable and efficient manner.

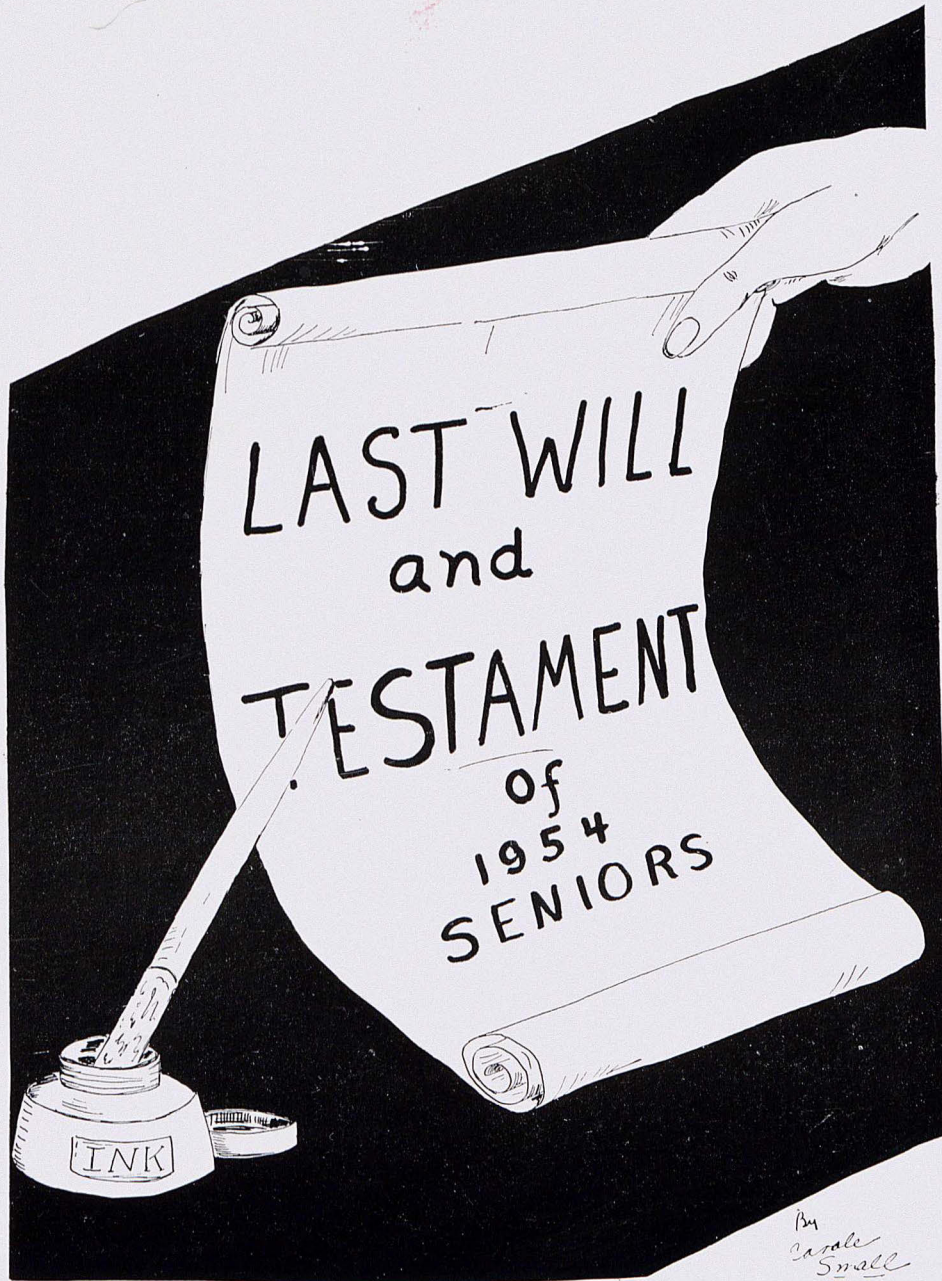

The time draws nigh for us to march to the melodious tune of "Pomp and Circumstance." Perhaps as we march we think—only too well — "Veni vidi vici" (I came, I saw, I conquered) and this is my reward.

We, the senior class, want to thank all the members of the faculty who have been our friends and benefactors; who through their patience and perseverance have contributed much to our growth and development.

We wish also to thank our parents, for without their help, their guidance, and their interest, our goal could not have been attained.

We know that without these forces behind us that the wealth, position, and influence which we seek can never be ours.

WILL

By Carole
Small

Last Will and Testament

WE, the members of the graduating class of 1954 being in sound mind (with little credit to those senior tests) and health (with much thanks to our physical education teachers) hereby submit our last will and testament.

To the faculty we leave our gratitude for their patience and fortitude during these four years of our stay at Huntington.

To the Juniors—we leave our places in the school activities and our choice seats in the assembly. We hope that they will enjoy their participation in school organizations as much as we did.

To the Sophomores we bequeath our textbooks and our school spirit. Use these textbooks carefully and diligently because they are your friends and will stay by you until the end.

To the Freshmen—we give our dignity. Hurry up and grow up.

To the Eighth Graders—we will our fortitude and determination to graduate. The road is long and hard but you can make it if you will just remain in school and apply yourselves.

Cozelle Upshur's lady-like trait of chewing only one-half of a stick of chewing gum at a time goes to Vivian Hill. Vivian, popping gum is rude and annoying.

Margaret Bowes leaves her sister, Barbara, her love for student council work. No joking, Margaret really enjoyed it.

To Eugene Butts goes John Hardwick's ability to get a girl friend. Stop, Eugene, trying to interfere with other fellow's progress.

Ira Holloway's and Vinetta Parker's beautiful smiles are bequeathed to Pauline "Grouch" Hill. Smile a while, girl.

Fret no more, Willie, because James George has donated his band uniform to you. Now you will have one that fits.

Lula Fuller's comfortable seat in Mr. Calloway's room goes to anyone who can enjoy it as much as she did.

To her brother, Mannie, goes Edna Lawrence's serious outlook on life.

Nathan Stith, wills to Mack Inman his subtle wit and his ability to fool the public. Take heed Mack, "You can fool all the people some of the time; but you can't fool all of the people all the time."

Frankie Sermons, Annette Merritt, Nancy Veals, Ruth Williams and Kathryn Vaughan will their pleasing personalities and their motto, "Silence is golden" to Mary Woodard, Joan Mack, Marion Williams, Ruth Grant, Lillian Ashcraft, Mary Wynn and Jackie Wakefield. Children should be seen and not heard so much.

James Cosby wills his place in the choir to his sister Loretta. We're pulling for you, friend.

To Marva Christian goes Delores Gregg's, Lucille Harp's, and Mary Hussey's sophisticated manner. It's time to grow up Marva.

Betty Jarrett and the two Outlaws, Mazelle and Queenie, will Marion Perry their book entitled "How to Get Dates." Peruse this with care, Marion.

Patricia Pope, and Esther Furbush leave to Arizona Bacchus their ability to have a good time in the proper manner.

Loretta Simpson's flair for dress goes to Sarah Haskett and Thelma Outlaw.

Audrey Lloyd and Shirley Stubbs have decided to donate spy glasses to Audrey Jones. We don't want you to strain your eyes too much in your effort to see everything and everybody.

To Loretta Brooks, Anna Jones bequeaths her tennis shoes. Maybe you'll be able to play off the floor and improve your game of basketball.

Ernestine Pryor is proud of that "Marilyn Monroe figure" and she doesn't want to part with it but she says she'll leave some good advice to the Johnson sisters, Joyce and Elaine, on how to acquire one if they'll see her privately.

Louise Washington bequeaths her serious demeanor to those giggling froshies, Norva Washington and Joyce Small.

To Ella Eley, Margaret Robinson and Mary Rainey, goes the poised and dignified manner of Georgia Eley.

James Gwaltney, Redelle Clinton, Carey Wrenn, Floyd Green and Vernon Harris leave their melodious voices to Charles Pleasants, Carter Bradshaw, Leonard Tucker and Breon Haskett. Singing in the bathroom won't help you, boys.

Betty Lee bequeaths to Jean Everette, Dorothy Taylor, and Marion Poe voice distinguishers to aid them in continuing to make telephone calls they consider mysterious.

Floyd Boyd has nothing to leave but the basketball and his keen shot for the basket.

Joseph Covington and William Brunson leave to the future clarinet players a stack of reeds. You will surely need them.

To Janice Hope, Mary Lewis leaves her battered gym case. She became tired of your throwing gym clothes all over algebra class, Janice.

To William Conde and Claude Richardson, Leonardo Thomas leaves his camera. Take good care of it, boys, because Dorothy Nicholson will need it next.

Leroy Bowens and Ward Johnson leave this bit of advice to the future industrial artists: Make the best of it, boys, because there is a great future in it.

Shirley Wilkins leaves her seat in the senior class to Tony Strickland in hopes that he will enjoy it as much as she.

To her sister Jocelyn, Lonniell leaves her ability to learn to drive. Sister dear, don't wreck the school car before you graduate.

Betty Gatling leaves to her brothers, Chester and Ulysses, her clean absentee slate and watch. School starts at 8:45 Monday morning and is in session every morning until Friday, Brothers.

Franklin "Foo Young" Dillard and Samuel Hardy bequeath to Ernest Anderson and Otis Blair their bass horn and the ability to play them as well as they.

To Betty Hopson and Ernestine Walston, Iretha Davis leaves her U. S. Government notes. Use them wisely girls, because next year U. S. Government will be two semesters.

Joseph Jackson wills to William Picott his ability to play his golden trumpet without practicing day and night.

Olivia Garret bequeaths to her sisters, Doris and Barbara, her watch. Maybe with it there won't be spent so many evenings in the detention room, sisters.

To her sister, Elizabeth, Mae Ellen Smith leaves Edgar Harris. Sorry Sis, but I have to take Vernon with me.

Ethel Roane leaves to Martha Ruffin a dictionary. Make good use of it kid; your vocabulary needs strengthening a bit.

I leave my aptitude for shorthand and typing to my sister. "Don't worry about it Sis, you can do it." Signed: Clarice Vaughan.

Sarah McPhatter, Zella Williams, Barbara Small, Geneva Pulley, and Eva Harrison leave their high moral standards to Beverly Allen, Beverly Briggs, Loretta Cosby, Mary Jones, and Blondena Woodard. "At the rate you are now traveling, girls, you will never make it."

Claudette Brinkley and Barbara Tucker, will their attraction and charm to the opposite sex,—to those lonely juniors who have so much difficulty with the he-men.

John Christian, James Marshall, and Marshall Hunt, bequeath their football uniforms and positions to any fellow who is capable of filling the job.

Clark Fraser, Johnny Knox, and Bernard Nelson will their propensity for staying out of class to anyone who can equal them and still talk in terms of graduation.

Three inches of Nannie Moore's and Margaret Knight's height goes to Celestine Jenkins. Now, Celestine, you will not have to tip-toe so much.

To Earl Winnegan, Fred Bryant leaves his love for auto mechanics.

Joseph Copeland wills to his brother, Clinso, his socks. Clinso has already gotten good use of them; he wears them more than I do anyhow.

To Ruth Mercherson and Jackie Wakefield, Jacqueline Wilkins, Ruth Riddick, Emma Richardson, and Mary Cofield leave their ability to remain a typical high school student throughout their five-year stay at Huntington High School.

Marion Gross, Mary Bervine, and Irma Owens, bequeath their sophisticated boyish bobs to Ann Sneed, Pearl Harris, and Josephine Christian.

Oliver Sidney is so happy to leave Huntington that he leaves nothing but his best regards for Ethelyne Batts and he hopes that she will soon join him.

Jack Pierce bequeaths his fondness for tenth grade girls to any one who likes small children.

Charles Sanders and James Braswell leave their positions on the basketball squad vacant although Sanders particularly feels there will never be another player like him.

My sincere regards and best wishes for prosperous oncoming years. To the Math Club. Signed: Aeolus Jones, the outgoing president.

The pride and joy of Huntington High School Band are leaving, James Poe and Rudolph Palmer. If you are interested in becoming a proficient flutist or drummer see them at your convenience.

To Earl Faison, George Hill bequeaths his dancing ability. Learn to lift those heavy feet, fellow.

Dilsie Graham leaves her love for all the business subjects offered here at Huntington. "Don't worry, Sis, they aren't difficult."

Nellie Kee leaves to Ethelyne Batts a bit of advice: Be as true to Oliver when he is gone as he was to you when he was here.

Barbara Seldon bequeaths to Vivian Hill a subscription to Seventeen. They will be of great help to you, Vivian, in your fashion ventures.

To those unruly eighth graders, Annie Brown, Carole Small, Florence Haynes, Dorothy Riddick, Gloria Hargraves, and Charles Holland, leave their quiet and dignified ways. Slow down, children, four years is some time off.

Stanley "Garcia" Green leaves his male appeal to all of his female admirers. Sorry girls, but I must go.

Earl Taylor, John Lewis, Ward Johnson, Stanley Jones and Ernest Everett are just plain happy to be leaving Huntington so they have nothing to leave except their names on the teachers roll books.

Lillie Fultz bequeaths to Rosa Avent and Lethia Vaughan the ability to be seen and not heard.

Class Prophecy

IT is the year 1964 and a beautiful evening in October. Members of the famous class of 1954 of Huntington High School are having their class reunion and are about to attend one of the most elegant soirees of the season at the Palladium in Hollywood.

The hour of the great event has arrived and among the first of the guests to arrive is Nathan Stith who has always been present and on time for everything. Decked out in white ties and tails and the best of satins and jewels, some of the class members are being swept up to the entrance in their limousines. They were greeted by the noted speech therapist Aeolus Jones, who is acting as hostess. Assisting her is Edna Lawrence and Eva Harrison, business executives of a local firm. Mae Ellen Smith and Franklin Dillard are still playing along together and are entering now. Behind them enters Doctor James Gwaltney, who is now Chief Executive of the Bellevue Hospital in New York City.

Arriving at this moment I see the Pope sisters, Patricia and Loretta. They had requested to give the party for the reunion, but since there were also offers from Audrey Lloyd, Mary Hussey, and Shirley Stubbs, who are noted for their hospitality, the committee refused both offers.

Five persons receive a warm reception from the committee at the door. They are Dr. Floyd Green, a famous surgeon in a large hospital, Claudette Brinkley and Shirley Wilkins, superintendents of nurses, Mary Lewis, a competent pharmacist assistant, and Esther Furbush, the laboratory technician in the same hospital. If there are any accidents tonight we feel sure that the sufferers will be properly attended to with nurses: Barbara Tucker, Ireatha Davis, Nannie Moore, Annie White, Ira Holloway and Gloria Hargraves on the job. These nurses are now residents of Washington, New York, Philadelphia, and Chicago except Gloria Hargraves, who is still the hometown girl.

Conversing in the corner are James Chevious and Floyd and Anna Boyd; James and Floyd have become partners and are quite successful auto mechanics.

With these three are Marion Gross, Vinetta Parker, Ernestine Pryor, Loretta Simpson, Barbara Seldon, and Mary Bervine. I am told that the beautiful garments they were wearing came from the very select, not to say expensive, shop of Anna Jones and Betty Gatling who design gowns for all the best dressed women in the country. Coming in now are some more elegantly dressed your ladies. They are Lucille Harps and Barbara Small, who have also become exclusive fashion designers. These ladies seemingly have some problems and are asking the legal advice of the prominent lawyers, James George and Redelle Clinton. They were making progress until another lawyer, James Poe, stepped into the scene and confused all with his unwanted advice.

Fashion-setters, Loretta Simpson and Kathryn Vaughan step into the scene and all eyes turn toward their dresses.

Our attention is now directed to two settled married couples whose futures lived up to everyone's expectations. They are Delores Gregg and Jack Pierce, and Irma Owens and Stanley Jones. It is surprising though, that we didn't receive letters of regret that the Pierce's couldn't afford a baby-sitter or the Jones' could not be present because of an important football game. Several of the most outstanding players on Coach Jones' team are Oliver Sidney, John Christian, and James Marshall. Marshall Hunt has just announced that he shall be playing with his beloved Redskins this year.

Standing in the door, looking for old friends, I find Joseph Copeland, business manager of the largest corporation in the state. Except that he has grown a trifle stouter and looks more cheerful than ever; he has not changed one bit since his high school days. He has employed several of his former classmates as secretaries: Nellie Kee, Betty Lee, Jacqueline Wilkins, Ruth Riddick, and Frankie Sermons.

Clarice Vaughan, Nancy Veals and Lillie Fultz have established a prospering business school in Richmond. Surprisingly enough, Lula Fuller, the dental tycoon, is the center of attraction. In attendance are three dental assistants, Drs. Rudolph Palmer, Carey Wrenn, and John Hardwick. It is rumored that Rudolph is smiling at the female patients while John is administering laughing gas to their husbands. Present is Charles Saunders, who is now established in psychiatric social work in San Francisco and at the present is residing in Berkeley. Margaret Knight, a skilled cosmetologist is an instructor at Howard University.

A man and woman are sketching the people as they come. Yes, it's Carole and Jerry Small. They have teamed up and have become quite famous as illustrators of magazines stories and newspaper articles.

Arriving late from Washington because of a storm are Margaret Bowes, Floyd Coefield, Vernon Harris, William Brunson, and Joseph Jackson. Margaret being an architectural engineer, is now designing halls of fame for the government. Floyd, Vernon Williams, and Joseph are electrical engineers employed at the Civil Service Laboratory and all are making the most out of the social life in D. C.

Ruth Artis has accomplished fame through painting. Some of her most wonderful paintings can be seen in the Museum of Paris. Charles Holland is a television technician and is an instructor at Howard University. Annie White could not resist the peppy music being played by Joseph Covington, James Patterson, and Samuel Hardy. With the distinguished actor, James Cosby, she tried a new dance step in the crowded drawing room.

Other arrivals are George Hill, Ernest Everett, Earl Taylor, Leroy Bowens, Fred Bryant, and behind them is a young woman in Uncle Sam's uniform. She is Elizabeth Holmes. Yes, she has joined her brother in the air force.

Of course, there are those who could not come and sent telegrams of regret. Florence Haynes, Sarah McPhatter, Zella Williams, and Lionelle White have gone back to our Alma Mater to teach and the principal would not give them the time off. James Braswell is now Huntington's basketball coach. Well he had plenty of experience in his senior year so I can see why he is doing such a good job.

Word has come that Johnnie Knox, and Ward Johnson have joined the Navy to see the world through a port hole and would not be present. Ruth Williams, Margaret Barrett, and Betty Jarrett are attending the National Beauticians Convention in California. Mazelle Outlaw, Queenie Outlaw, Loretta Gayle and Olivia Garrett are now living in Germany with their husbands who are in the United States Army.

Dorothy Sykes is vacationing in Canada. Cozelle Upshur is on a singing tour in the Eastern part of the country. Annie Brown, Emma Richardson, the Riddick sisters, Doris Palmer and Mary Coefield are still residing in Newport News and could not come because of their families.

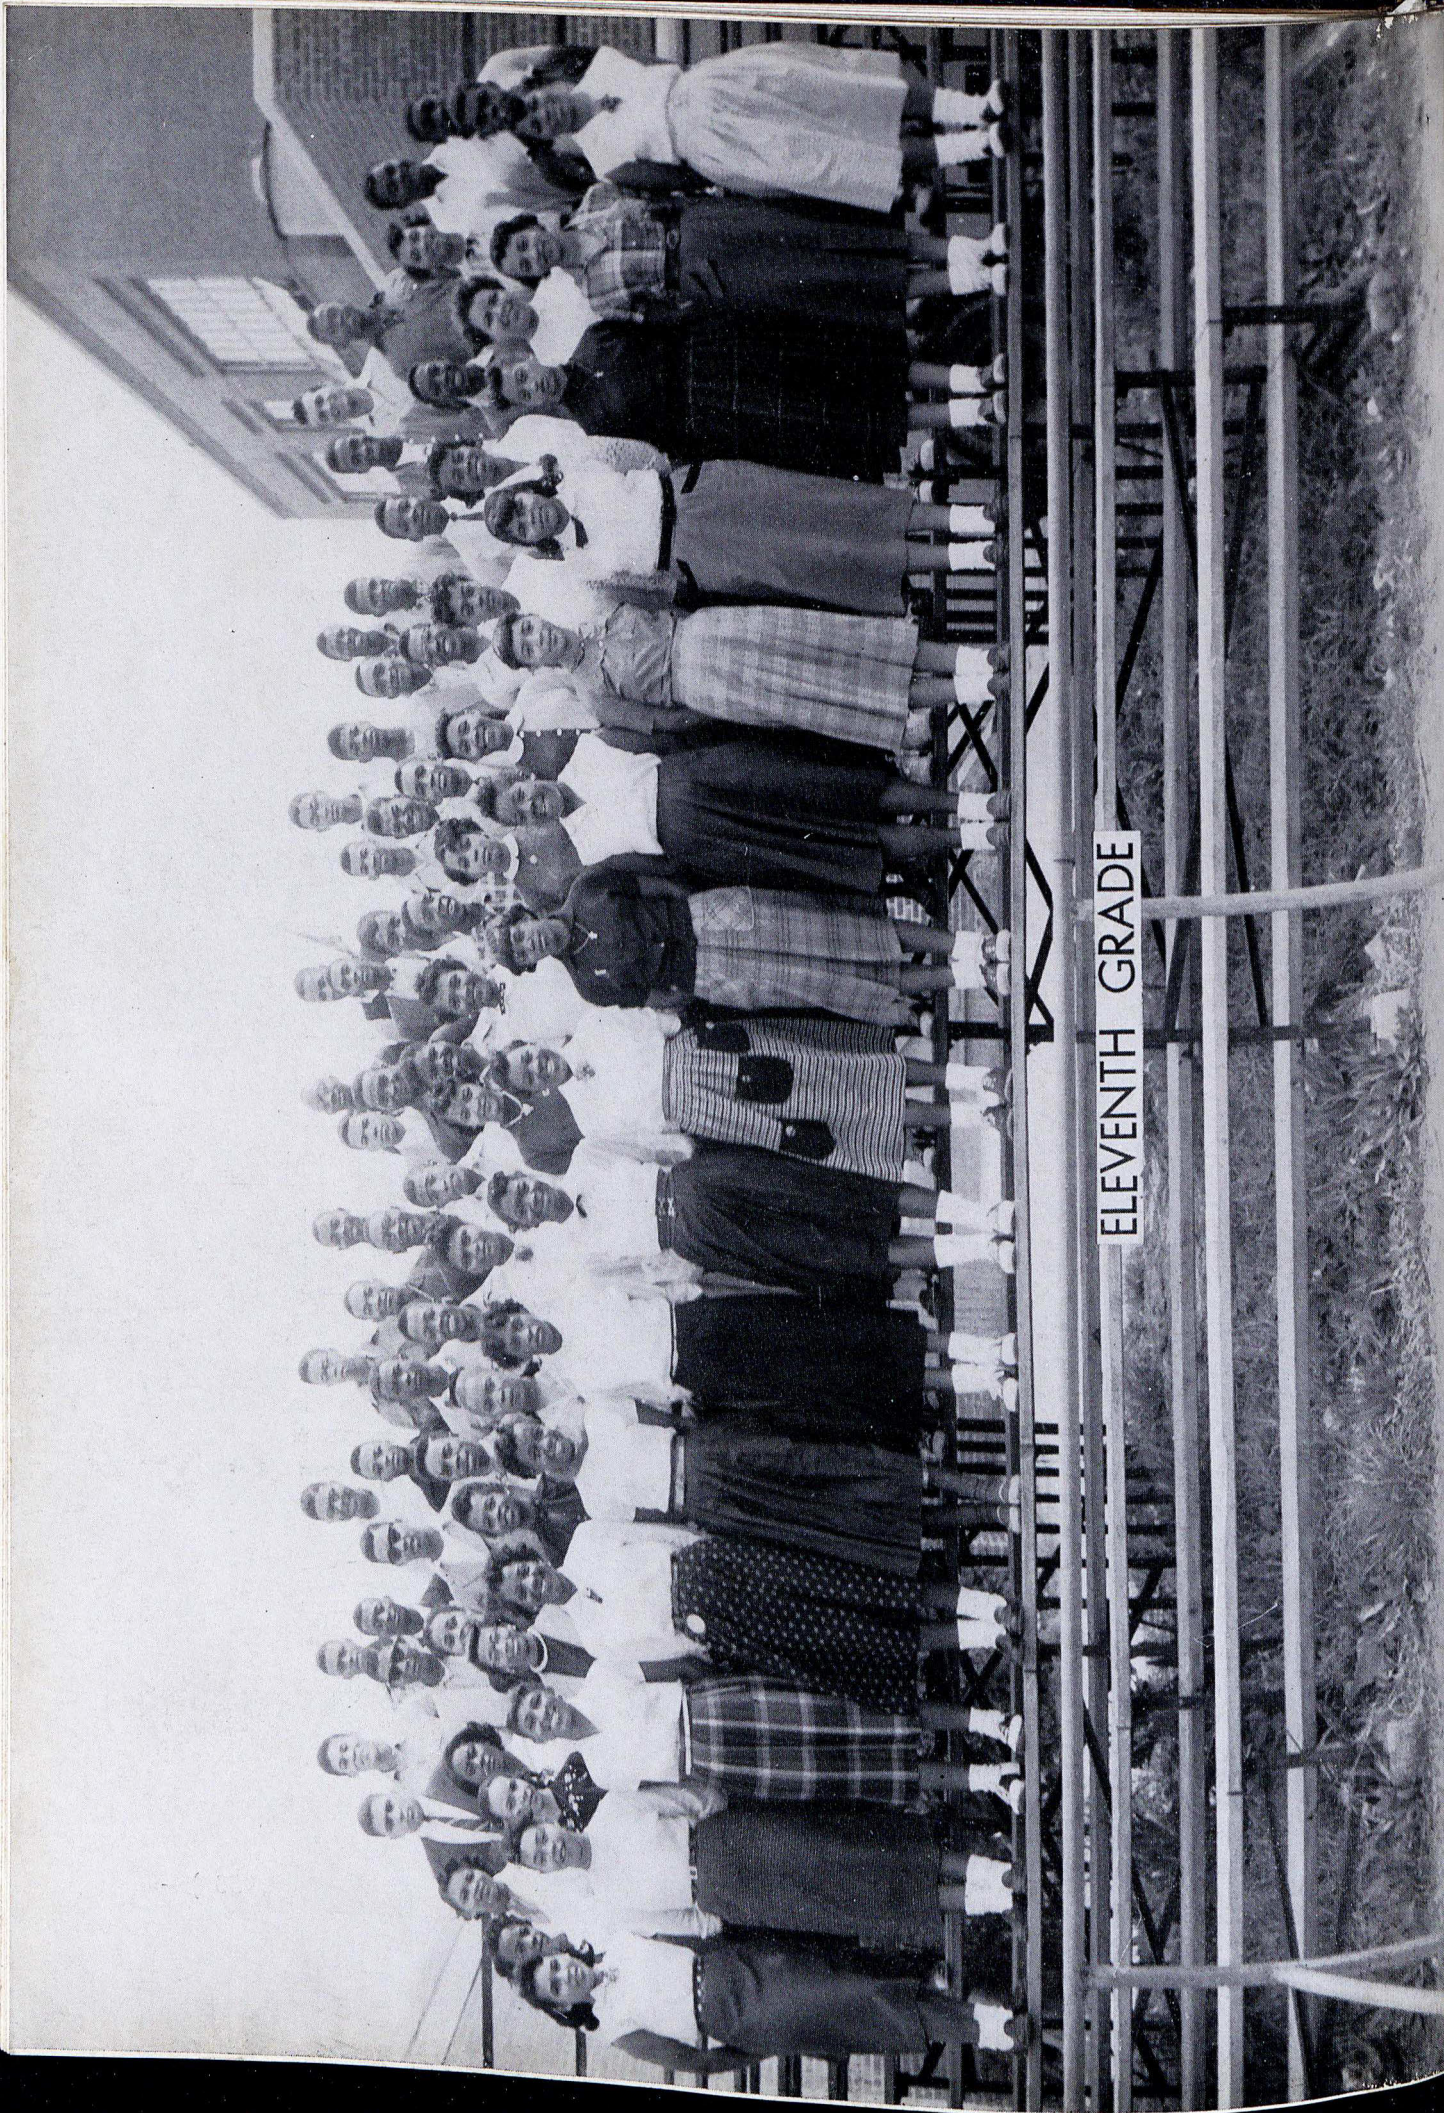

After sampling a buffet of lobster newberg, cold salmon, and fruit tarts prepared by the noted dieticians, Arnette Merritt, and Ethel Roane, all the guests, except Dilsie Graham, the public accountant, who was busy figuring the expenses of the evening, sang their class song and bade each a pleasant farewell.

The Hobby Club

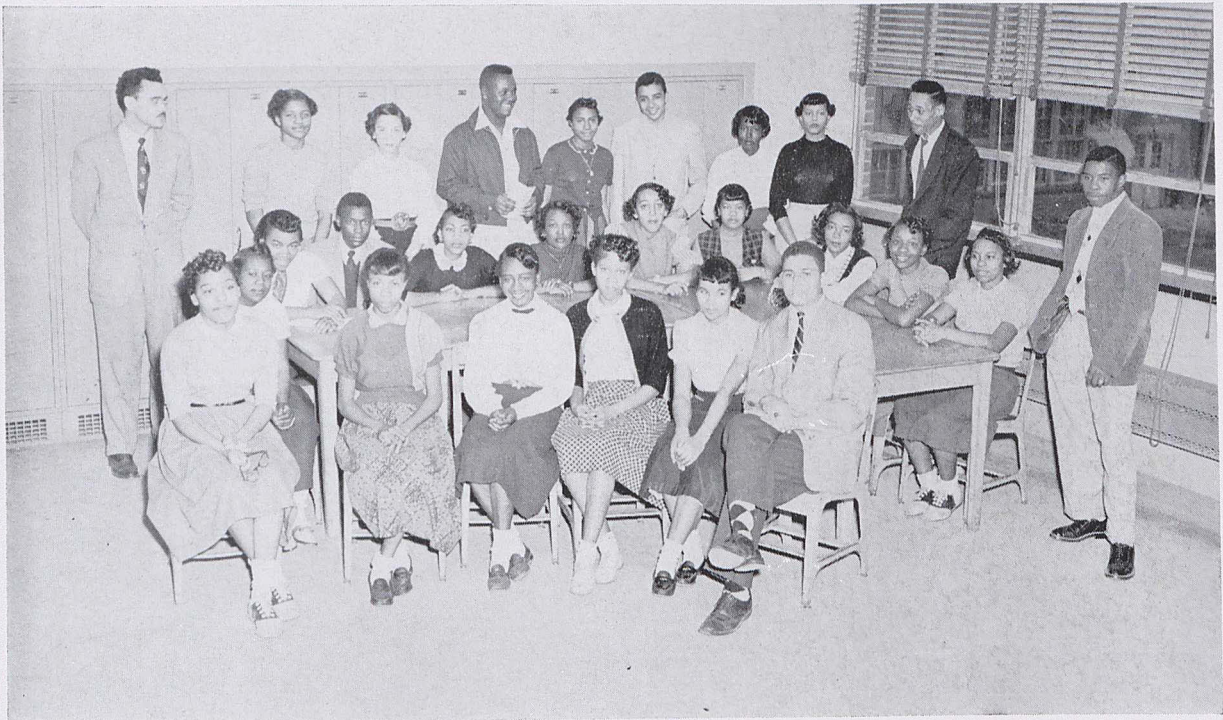

OFFICERS

President	LEONARDA THOMAS
Vice-President	WILLIAM BRUNSON
Secretary	MARIE WELCH
Treasurer	DOROTHY TAYLOR
Sponsor	Mr. RALPH W. MCGHEE

The Hobby Club is an organization composed of students who have a hobby or desire to learn one. The purpose of this organization is to assist the student in using his leisure time wisely. The club meets once a week and at this time activities such as block printing, electronics, metal-crafts, model-making, photography, and other crafts are engaged in.

The Business Efficiency Class

OFFICERS

President	WILLIAM BRUNSON
Vice-President	JAMES COSBY
Secretary	AUDREY LLOYD
Treasurer	JOSEPH COPELAND
Sponsors	MISS C. E. JACKSON, MR. W. C. BROWN

The purposes of the Business Efficiency Club are to acquaint students with various occupations in the field of business, to perform typewriting assignments for various departments of the school, and to sponsor activities that will broaden the knowledges of the members of the club and that will acquaint the entire school with the business department.

The Club sponsored a very enjoyable one-act play, "Business and So Forth," made a bulletin board display on the various business occupations for Career Day, prepared monthly Business Efficiency Club News Bulletin, went on field trips to various businesses and business schools, constructed a float for the homecoming parade.

The Library Club

OFFICERS

President	EDNA LAWRENCE
Vice-President	BARBARA LANE
Secretary	DELORES BAILEY
Treasurer	MARY HUSSEY
Sponsor	MISS R. L. MEALY

Purpose

The Library Club is organized to teach pupils to process books, write and send out overdue notices for books, and to encourage good citizenship in the library. It gives a limited amount of pre-vocational training and experience.

The club this year has assisted the librarian in carrying out library routines, preparing displays and exhibits and aiding less experienced students in simple reference problems.

The Social Studies Club

OFFICERS

President	KATHRYN VAUGHAN
Vice-President	LEE MANGRUM
Secretary	ANNIE WHITE
Assistant Secretary	GLORIA HARGRAVES
Treasurer	CHARLES PLEASANTS
Sponsors	MRS. WILSON AND MR. TURNER

The Social Studies Club aims to establish a Social Studies Laboratory; to stimulate the members interest in Social Studies and to gather records, materials, and relics for future reference for the Social Studies department.

The club sponsored the Negro History program and maintains a Library Committee to work with the Social Studies teachers. They also have hobbies that deal with local, national, and international events.

The Coordinating Club, Student Council

To promote a unified program of student activities and to provide a smoother operation of these activities are the aims of the Co-ordinating Club of the Student Council. It is composed of the presidents of all school organizations and meets regularly to present calendars of the individual clubs, to help publicize and promote club programs and activities, and to suggest solutions to problems presented by the clubs. This club acts as a clearing house for school activities.

The Student Council

OFFICERS

President	FRANKLIN DILLARD

Associate Historian	FLORENCE JARRETT
Treasurer	CLISNO COPELAND
Chaplain	CLARENCE HALL

It is the responsibility of the Student Council to apply the tenets of democracy to the management of our school activities.

Through its elected representatives, the Council studies various school problems and regulates certain school activities. It tries to pool the efforts of all the clubs in our school on certain projects.

This year the Council has centered its efforts on the school cafeteria. Not only are the students trying to regulate the traffic there, but they are serving as cashiers.

Since the members of the Student Council have been acting as cashiers the receipts have increased and the cafeteria report shows a decided gain.

The New Homemakers of America have four specific purposes. They are to promote individual growth by developing physical, social, and moral qualities; to promote better home living; to provide wholesome recreational activities; and to act as a unit of service to the school, community, state and nation.

The Club this year sponsored sales of all occasion cards and stamps at school, a Mothers' Day Tea, the Style Show, and sent representatives to the state and national conferences.

The program of Diversified Occupation is a form of part-time education, which involves a cooperative arrangement between the business and industrial enterprises of the community and the high school. These businesses and industries furnish part-time employment and training to students during school hours. Through this employment the student learns the manipulative part of the job under actual working conditions. The school facilities are used to furnish the technical subject material related to the job being learned.

The Mirror — the official organ of Huntington High has for its purposes: to support school activities, to develop school spirit, to serve as a medium for creative expression, to mold student opinion, to encourage clean sportsmanship, to foster cooperation between students and teachers, and to publish interesting and accurate school news.

The F. T. A. Club

Charles R. Drew Chapter of the Future Teachers of America

One of the most active organizations in the school is the Charles R. Drew Chapter of the Future Teachers of America. This club under the dynamic leadership of Marvis Atkins enjoyed a most interesting and enriching school year. Included in its activities were an assembly program in celebration of American Education Week, contributions of soap, powder, tooth paste, wash clothes and towels to the patients at Camp Patrick Henry plus personal visitations, a luncheon in observance of their anniversary and an anniversary assembly program featuring Mrs. Charles R. Drew as the main speaker. Mrs. Drew in her own inimitable manner reviewed the accomplishments and life of the renowned late Dr. Drew, her husband.

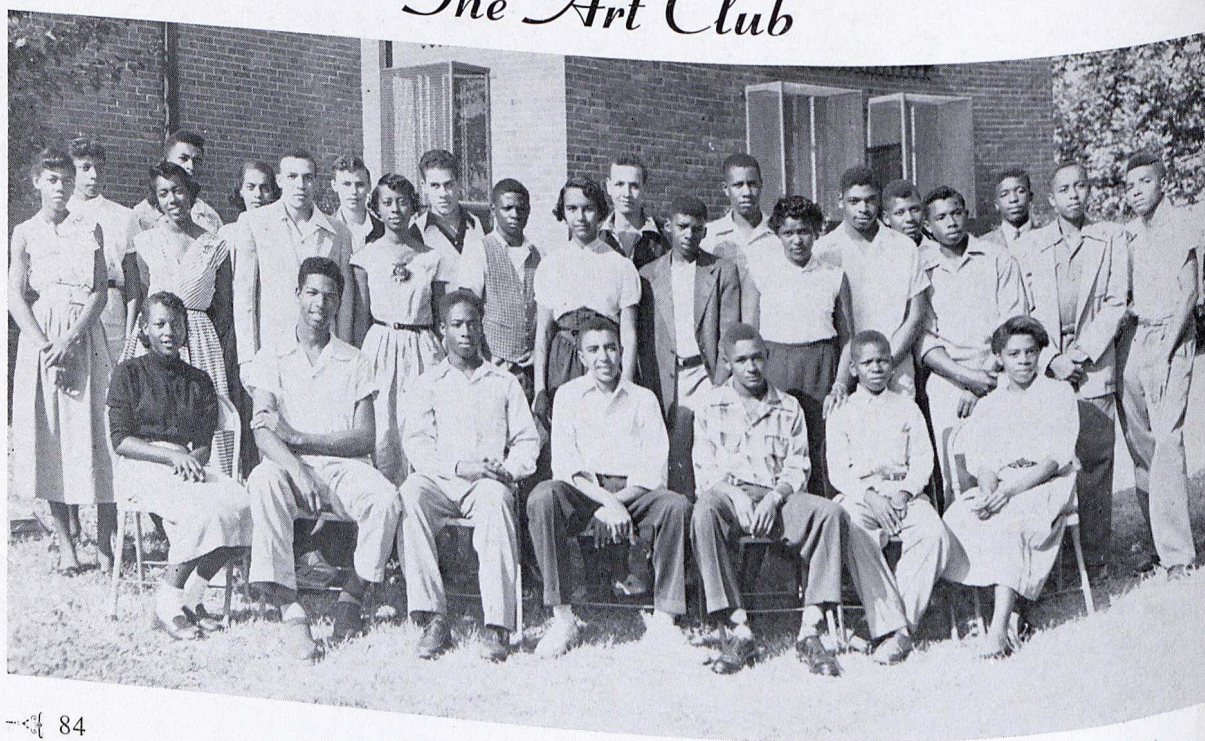

Marvis Atkins served as president of the club and Miss Lillian Weaver, sponsor.

This club for the first time sent representatives to the F. T. A. Division of the National Education Association which met in New York in August.

Director, Senior Band	W. RAPHEAL HERRING

The band is composed of one drum major, 6 majorettes, 4 color guards and 78 instrumentalists.

The general objectives of the instrumental music program are to enhance through participation the culture and musical appreciation of the student.

This program is divided into three major sections: the beginners class, the Junior Band and the Senior Band.

The Senior and Junior Bands have participated in more than 75 activities of the school and community during this school year. They have played at football games, school assemblies, civic and private parades, district and state music clinics and festivals, concerts, baseball games, and religious services. At the District Music Festival we received superior rating and at the State Festival we were rated as excellent.

TRACK TEAM

The Huntington High School track team under the masterful guidance of Coach T. S. Madden "our very own," and track commissioner for the State of Virginia, came from behind this year in local competition to upset the hopes of I. C. Norcum and went on to win the State V. I. A. L. Track Championship.

Four records were set by our Vikings. Jack Avent broke the current record with a discus toss of 147 feet; Joseph Covington coped previous records with a 16 second running in the high hurdles; William Kindred followed through and came up with a record time in the 220 yard low hurdles of 21 seconds, and Carter, Sidney, Simpson, Raney and Kindred combined their talents to chop down the Medley Relay time and set a new 3:45.2.

This year's Co-Captains were William Brunson and Oliver Sidney. The Vikings since the start of the state track competitions have won 9 out of 11 championships.

THE BASKETBALL TEAM

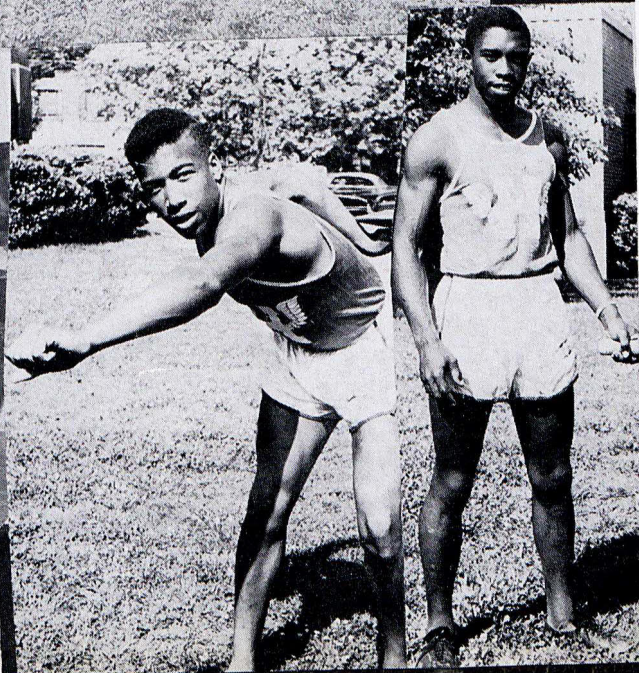

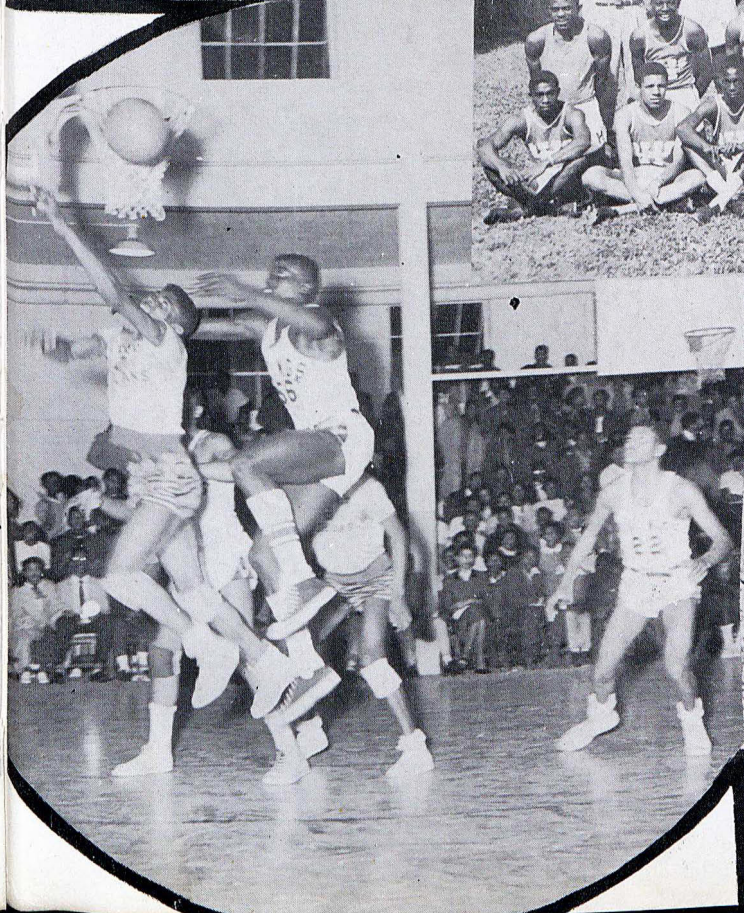

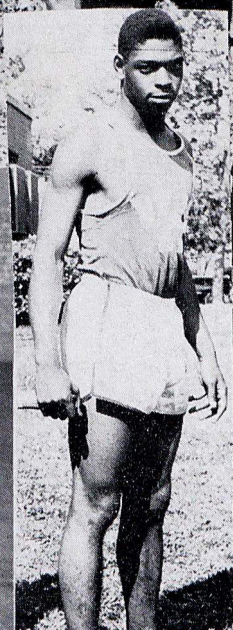

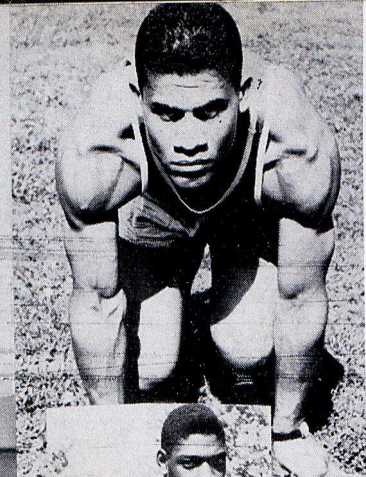

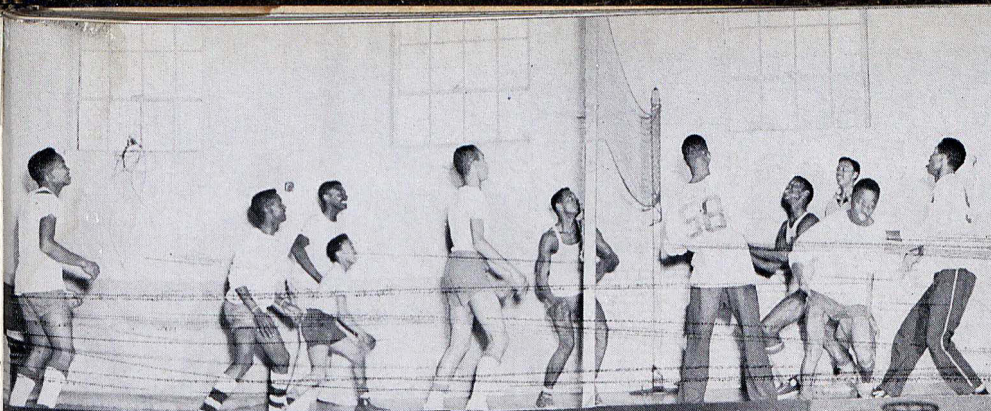

The 1953-54 edition of the Huntington High School basketball team under coach Freddie Travis finished its season with a very good showing. The Vikings getting off to a slow start at the beginning of the season caught fire at mid stream and terrorized the entire state. The Vikings who ended up 6th in the Eastern District Visitational race, broke all previous records in scoring and averaged a total of 70 points per game.

The iron Vikings lost out to Booker T. Washington of Suffolk in the Semi-Final rounds of the Eastern District Tournament, but bounced back and fought their way through to the finals of the State VIAL tournament to become runners-up. Three players who received all state honors were; Lonnie Humphrey and Charles Sanders all state forward and center respectively; and Earl Faison, all state second team.

The 1953 Football Squad

The 1953 Vikings under the able tribune of Coach T. S. Madden finished its season with a 7-3 record and placed 4th in state competition. Coach Madden can still boast his season's record however, as he ran up his 10 years record to 96 wins, 7 ties, and 8 defeats which also includes 5 state championships. It is interesting to note that Coach Madden has the best high school record at present in the state.

Driver Training

In an effort to improve driving skills, the two high schools in our city have conducted classes in Driver Training for the past several years. All students before graduation are required to take this course which teaches them to operate a vehicle plus the laws governing the operation and to qualify for driver's license. A dual controlled car is furnished them through the courtesy of local automobile firms.

WIT AND HUMOR

Wit and Humor

She: "How many times a day do you shave?"
He: "Oh, fifty or sixty times."
She: "Say, are you crazy?"
He: "No, I'm a barber."

A canner, exceedingly canny: "One morning," remarked to his granny, "A canner can can, anything that he can, but a canner can't can a can, can he?"

A silly young man from the Clyde
In a funeral carriage was spied;
When asked, "Who is dead?"
He giggled and said:
"I don't know—I just came for the ride."

Jack: "I went to bed last night and dreamed that I died."
Bernard: "What's wrong the heat wake you up?"

Teacher (sternly): "This essay on 'Our Dog' is word for word the same as your brother's."
Small Boy: "Yes sir, it's the same dog."

Suzie: "Mamma you know that vase you said was passed down from generation to generation?"
Mother: "Yes, my dear."
Suzie: "Well, this generation has just dropped it."

Alas for little Willie
We'll ne'er see Willie no more:
For what he thought was H₂O
Was H₂SO₄.

Girls when they went out to swim
Once dressed like Mother Hubbard;
Now they have a bolder whim:
They dress more like her cupboard.

There once was a lady from Guam
Who said "Now the ocean's so calm
I will swim for a lark
She encountered a shark,
Let us now sing the 90th Psalm."

There was an old man in a hearse
Who murmured, "This might have been worse,"
Of course, the expense
Is simply immense,
But it doesn't come out of my purse."

Miss Perry: "What do zebras have that no other animals have?"
Hardy: "O—little zebras."

Never go hunting bare (bear) you might catch cold.

Mr. Turner: "Patterson, how do you spell inconsequentially?"
Patterson: "Wrong."

Mr. Harris: "Now, Nathan, tell me where elephants are found."
Nathan: "Elephants are such very large animals they hardly ever get lost."

Mr. Callaway: "Define manners, Pierce."
Pierce: "Manners is the noise you don't make when you're eating soup."

Miss Riley: "Vernon, I'm ashamed of you. When I was no bigger than you, I could reel all the Presidents off in order without hesitation."
Vrenon: "Yeah; but there were only three or four of them then."

Teacher: "What pine has the longest and sharpest needles?"
Harry: "A Porcupine."

Sunday School Teacher: "Who can tell me anything about Ruth?"
Johnnie: "He made sixty home runs in one season."

Mr. Buggs: "Gwaltney, are you blind? How far can you see anyway?"
Gwaltney: "I can see the sun and that is 93 million miles away."

"Mr. Davis, there is a man at the door with a wooden leg named Smith."
George: "And what is the name of his other leg?"

When things turn green these days, you don't know whether it's spring, envy, or chlorophyll.

Daughter: "Mother there is something running across the floor without any legs or a head."
Mother: "Good heavens, what is it?"
Daughter: "Water."

Can a cross-eyed woman tell a bowlegged man to walk straight?

Mr. Johnson: "Hardy, why does a refrigerator cut on and off while in operation?"
Sam: "It gets tired."

IT'S A GOOD HABIT!

(Reading Newspapers, We Mean)

A Nowadays, high school students know more than their parents did at the same age. They have wider interests.

B Most teen-agers make it a daily habit to read the newspapers. Maybe they turn first to comics and sports, but they absorb national and international news, too.

C Here's an idea worth adopting. Reading newspapers regularly helps anyone get along better in business and social life. It gives him background knowledge.

D Your local newspapers provide full sports coverage and all the local news, wire news, wirephotos, features and comics you need for a balanced diet of daily information. Get the reading habit!
